

Family Medicine Education Consortium (FMEC) Partner Organization Benefits

All Partners are recognized on the FMEC website, at the FMEC Annual Meeting, and in the FMEC Annual Report
All Partners also receive discounts with FMEC’s service partners, such as Navigate (loan consultation)

Bronze $1,000	Benefits
Family Medicine Residency (FMR) Programs Each individual FMR must join at the Bronze/$1,000 level in order to receive these benefits Health systems that join at the higher levels (below) receive complimentary Bronze memberships for their affiliated FMRs	Discount ($300) on fees for Residency Fair booths at the FMEC Annual Meeting Access to FMEC educational programs and convenings to help you meet 2023 ACGME guidelines
Medical School Departments of Family Medicine Each medical school must join at the Bronze/$1,000 level in order for its students to be eligible to participate in the FMEC’s scholarship program	Ability for enrolled students to apply for scholarships to the FMEC Annual Meeting Each $500 scholarship covers conference registration, hotel room, and meals. Join at the Bronze level, send 2 students, and you’ve gotten your money back

Support the FMEC at higher levels for additional benefits and recognition

President $25,000	Platinum $10,000	Gold $5,000	Silver $2,500	Benefits
			●	1 entity (residency site or medical school) receives Bronze Level partner benefits
●	●	●	●	Individual FMEC memberships for ALL residents at all sites
			●	Individual FMEC memberships for up to 10 faculty or staff
●	●	●	●	Job and fellowship postings in FMEC’s Special Edition email
		●		3 entities (residency sites or medical schools) receive Bronze Level partner benefits
●	●	●		Individual FMEC memberships for ALL faculty and staff
●	●	●		Promote your institution and faculty in FMEC’s In Focus newsletter
●	●	●		Free ($2,500 value) exhibitor booth at the FMEC Annual Meeting
	●			5 entities (residency sites or medical schools) receive Bronze Level partner benefits
●	●			Invitations to FMEC leadership events at FMEC Annual Meetings
●	●			FMEC Annual Meeting recognition from podium
●				All entities (residency sites and medical schools) receive Bronze Level partner benefits
●				FMEC Annual Meeting recognition as plenary or preconference sponsor

Updated 3-31-2022

Guide to Joining the FMEC

Bronze Level ($1,000) If you are an individual family medicine residency (FMR) and plan to participate in the FMEC Residency Fair and/or the FMEC initiatives to support meeting ACGME requirements, join at the Bronze ($1,000) Level.

If you are a medical school and your students want to attend the FMEC Annual Meeting on FMEC scholarships, join at the Bronze ($1,000) Level. (As of 2022, the requirement for medical schools to be partners for their students to receive scholarships will be enforced.)

Silver Level ($2,500) If your residents and faculty attend and/or present at the FMEC Annual Meeting, join at the Silver ($2,500) or Gold ($5,000) Levels, so they receive individual FMEC memberships and get discounts on meeting registrations.

If you need to advertise jobs and fellowships to 5,000+ health care providers throughout the northeast, join at the Silver ($2,500) Level or higher.

Gold Level ($5,000) If your system has multiple FMRs who want to participate with FMEC, join at the Gold ($5,000) Level or higher to enroll your FMRs as Bronze Partners.

If you want to get exposure throughout the northeast and at the Annual Meeting as a leader in family medicine, and promote your faculty and their accomplishments through the FMEC, join at the Gold ($5,000) Level or higher to be featured in FMEC communications and at the Annual Meeting.

All Partner Levels If you support the FMEC’s goals to strengthen family medicine, support faculty development, help residents transition to their careers, and inspire medical students to choose family medicine, join at any level!

Interested in joining as an FMEC Partner? Please reach out to Denise Steele at denise.steele@fmec.net